Making pots to celebrate Autumn

Rae Troiano Brown • rae@abitoffcenter.com • Thursdays 6-8:30

If you've never taken a wheel throwing class before, but have always wanted to, then this class is for you. If you've have a little bit of experience throwing on the wheel, and are looking for the opportunity to advance your skills, then this class is also for you! Beginners will focus on the fundamentals: centering, throwing bowls and cylinders, pulling handles, and simple trimming and glazing. More advanced students will build on existing knowledge to make cylinders and bowls into pitchers, mugs, and serving pieces. We will be making pots to use during the shortening autumn days – pots that celebrate autumn. Come, join the class and be mindful of this special season before the winter comes!

Sept. 9 Votive holders to brighten darkening days.

Sept. 16 Mugs for a warm and welcoming cup of cocoa in the evening. How about imprinting leaves on a special mug?

Sept. 23 Autumnal Equinox - Soup bowls to enjoy hearty stews and chili.

Sept. 30 Sugar and creamer sets to use during late afternoon tea. Why add cold milk to hot tea? Warm it in a creamer.

Oct. 7 Apple bakers - just add cinnamon and sugar...Yum!

Oct. 14 Glazing and finishing
